

SAYS GAMBLING IS UP TO INSPECTORS

Commissioner Bingham Announces He Will Hold Them Responsible.

Gambling, its increase and repression in the city engaged the attention of Police Commissioner Bingham to-day. "Are you holding Chief Inspector Cortright responsible for the gambling situation?" he was asked. "The police regulations hold all the inspectors responsible in their own districts for the enforcement of all laws," the Commissioner replied. "The new Commissioner considers the repression of gambling up to the inspectors and not the captains, and is dealing with the subject through Chief Inspector Cortright, who is said to have given his subordinate inspectors strict orders to curb the evil. "Have you received any complaints alleging that gambling is on the increase?" the Commissioner was asked. "Complaints come in here," he replied, "and are referred to the proper inspectors. "From whom do they come?" "From citizens and others; they come in by mail every morning." "From the District-Attorney also?" "Yes, in the regular course of business. "Do your 'forty-fours' show any increase in gambling?" "The Commissioner did not understand this question at first. Section 44 is the part of the police regulations which requires the Commissioner to send daily reports to the District-Attorney as to the gambling in each district. The regulations have been called the Commissioner's 'forty-fours.' Finally he caught the purport of the question and replied: "Oh, I know what you mean, but that is a private matter. The subject is a deep one, but I'm here to enforce the laws, and every time I see a broken law show its head I'm here to crack it, and I will crack it."

POLICEMEN SHOT IN HAMBURG RIOTS

New Election Law Which Takes Vote from Poorer Classes Causes Trouble.

BERLIN, Jan. 18.—The demonstrations at Hamburg yesterday against the proposed new election law assumed a more serious aspect last night than indicated in previous despatches. A barricade was erected in one of the streets leading to the fish market and the police were fired upon. In attempting to disperse the rioters the latter opened fire with every kind of weapon and about twenty policemen were wounded, one of them has since died. The demonstrations are mainly organized by Socialists and are intended as a protest against the proposed election law which partly disfranchises the poorer classes. As called from Hamburg last night, great demonstrations of Socialists were held here yesterday to protest against the proposed new election law. The rioters caused a complete block of traffic. The rioters were fired upon by the police and several were wounded. The rioters were fired upon by the police and several were wounded. ## WINS IN LAWSUIT AGAINST MOTHER.

Court Decides That Edward Sinnott Did Not Intend to Sell Share in Old Home.

When Michael Sinnott died, years ago, he left his home at No. 542 West Forty-seventh street to his widow and two sons, the former receiving one-half and the latter, Edward and John, who were then minors, the other half in equal parts. John studied medicine and began practice here, and Edward, while in St. John's College, went on his vacation to Vermont and married there. Returning here, ambitious to set up a home for himself, he borrowed $300 from his mother and signed a paper. He says he supposed he was signing a receipt for the $300, but the mother holds a claim deed to his share in the home-stead. Edward went to set aside this deed and, claiming $4,000, the case was tried before Justice Leventritt in the Supreme Court to-day. The mother, Mrs. Sinnott, who has been persistently advertised in every way, but chiefly in newspapers for about six years, in that time the sale of Cascarots has grown from nothing to over one million boxes a month. This wonderful record is the result of great merit successfully made known. Those who tried Cascarots as a direct result of advertising were pleased and recommended it to their friends, until its fame was spread to become universal.

A Record Breaker.

It is said that the greatest and quickest permanent advertising success on record is that of Cascarots, Candy Cartilage, which have been persistently advertised in every way, but chiefly in newspapers for about six years, in that time the sale of Cascarots has grown from nothing to over one million boxes a month. This wonderful record is the result of great merit successfully made known. ## MAN STRUCK BY AUTO EXONERATED CHAUFFEUR

Picked Up with Possible Fracture of the Skull He Says It Was His Own Fault.

While attempting to cross the plaza at Times Square and Forty-second street to-day, Thomas McDermott, sixty-five years old, an employee of the Consolidated Gas Company, living at No. 43 West Forty-seventh street, was struck by an automobile and thrown twenty feet. The driver of the car, Horace M. Wells, who works for the American Shock Absorber Company, stopped immediately and ran back to aid the old man. To the questions of Policeman John Ward, the injured man said: "It was my own fault. I don't blame him." After this statement Wells was not placed under arrest. Mr. McDermott was taken to Roosevelt Hospital and there it was found that he had sustained a fracture of the skull.

FEARS HUSBAND IS DEAD.

Thinks He Left Home with Intention of Ending Life.

That Andrew Eaton, an inventor, left his home at No. 71 Irving place yesterday with the express intention of ending his life in some secluded spot was the fear his wife expressed at Police Headquarters to-day, when she asked that a search be made for him. Last April, the wife said, the inventor attempted suicide by inhaling gas through a tube. Shortly afterward he was taken to a sanitarium where he remained until a few weeks ago. He disappeared from his home yesterday morning. He is 5 feet tall, weighs 150 pounds, is smooth shaven and wore a black suit, long black coat and derby hat. His last seen was in money.

KILLS AND BURNS SEVEN; THEN SHOOTSELF DEAD

Man Crushes Skulls of His Whole Family and Commits Suicide After Firing House—Disagreed Over Property.

PENNSBORO, N. H., Jan. 18.—None but a madman, it is believed here, could have perpetrated a deed equalling that of Charles F. Ayer, who, after deliberately murdering his wife and five children and his mother-in-law by crushing in their skulls, sealed the house against intrusion, taking careful pains to bolt the cellar doors, and then set fire to the premises. Two hours later Ayer was in Chichester visiting the home of his married sister, having driven at a furious rate. It is believed that he was then bent upon his life, when word was received of the destruction of the Ayer home by fire. Ayer then drew a revolver and, placing the weapon to his temple, fired two shots. He died a few minutes later, no explanation having been forthcoming for his fiendish deed. That Ayer's wife was suddenly turned to the charitable explanation of his relative and former neighbors. Ayer, with his family, consisting of Mrs. Ayer, her two sons and three girls, ranging in age from twelve to twenty years, and her mother, Mrs. Lakewood, sixty-three years old, had lived at Pembroke four years. He was industrious, but failed to secure permanent employment. On several occasions the town authorities had aided the family. Three days ago it was announced that the family were to move to Chichester, where a job was promised Ayer. Yesterday he was supposed to have departed, but when Charles Glidden, who lives near the Ayer place, saw smoke coming from the house he supposed for the moment that it was occasioned by a bonfire in the rear yard, or that the family was burning household refuse preparatory to its departure. A few minutes later, when the flames came from the house, Glidden alarmed the neighbors, who flocked to the scene. Not until the entire interior of the house had been consumed were the flames extinguished. Upon entering the house the startling revelation was made that the entire family was murdered. Mrs. Lakewood's son arrived from Concord in time to identify the burned and bruised body of his mother. Her body was found in the ashes of the room she was accustomed to occupy, the skull crushed, presumably by an axe. Man Kills Himself. The bodies of Mrs. Ayer and her five children were discovered in various parts of the house, showing that the murderer had gone from room to room wielding death with each stroke. William Fowler, who owns the fastest team in the town, volunteered to go in search of Ayer, believing that he was cognizant of the commission of the terrible crime revealed by the hasty examination of the burned building. Fowler speeded his team toward Chichester. Five miles away Fowler learned that Ayer was at the home of a sister, and overhauled the murderer near the barn. When Fowler related the story of the wholesale murders Ayer uttered an oath and, placing a revolver against his right temple, shot two bullets into his brain. Had Been Brooding. It is evident that either an axe or hammer was used by the madman with which he pounded the members of his family to death. Investigation to-day disclosed the fact that for three months Ayer had been brooding over fancied financial wrong in connection with the settlement of the estate of his wife's father, Isaac Lakewood, who died three years ago. The will named an executor, but no final settlement of the estate has been made, however. In November last Mrs. Lakewood put the farm at auction, and it was bought by one of her sons, Fayette Lakewood, of Goffstown. He made an arrangement for Ayer and his wife to remain on the place, having their rent free in return for boarding Mrs. Lakewood, paying the taxes and making repairs. Ayer insisted, however, that his wife should receive the share of the inheritance money that would be hers as an heir before she signed the deeds to the place. To this his brothers refused to consent. Ayer was angry, but his wife finally signed the necessary papers. The failure to obtain this ready money to meet his very pressing financial needs is believed to have unbalanced the entire family was murdered. Ayer's body has been taken to an undertaking place at Chichester.

Commissioner Supposed to Reward the Brave Doesn't Discover Any Worthy. Lakewood Gaiety Halts as He Tells How He Got Bank Accounts Mixed.

(Special to The Evening World.) LAKEWOOD, N. J., Jan. 18.—At an expense of nearly $15,000 of the policyholders' money more than 250 agency directors of the New York Life Insurance Company are being entertained in royal fashion at the palatial Lakewood Hotel. The agents assembled in the hall of the house this morning to listen to speeches by George W. Perkins, former Chairman of the Finance Committee; Secretary John C. McColl, Jr., and John Clafin, one of the trustees named as a voting proxy for the policyholders. How much more economically than last year the company is to be managed this year was the burden of the speeches dined into the ears of the agents by the officers. George W. Perkins to-day continued his explanation of how he got his explanation of how he got his personal bank account and that of the New York Life's mixed up. He told the agents what a mighty good chairman of the finance committee he was and how much money he made for the company while holding that position. His talk aroused much enthusiasm, and he was cheered for several minutes. President Alexander E. Orr sent word to-day that he could not attend the Nyllics convention and the agents were much disappointed. The convention will close to-morrow. MAJESTIC WIRES 'SCONSET. The White Star Line steamer Majestic from Liverpool and Queenstown for this port was in communication by wireless telegraph with the station at Nantuxet, Mass., at 12:15, 12:20, 12:25, when the vessel was 110 miles east of the Nantuxet South Shoals Lightship. The ship probably took about 7.30 P. M. to-day.
